

The University of Hertfordshire and The Czech Academy of Sciences, Institute of Philosophy cordially invite you to an online workshop in the philosophy of mind

Phenomenality and Self-Consciousness

July 23, 2020

Programme:

10:00–11:20 (BST) James Hill (Charles University): “Self-Consciousness and the Will”
Sam Coleman (Herts): commentary

11:30–12:30 (BST) Hynek Janoušek (Czech Acad Sci, Inst Philosophy): “Phenomenality and Self-Consciousness, Husserl on Brentano, Brentano on Husserl”

Lunch break (90 minutes)

14:00–15:00 (BST) Michelle Liu (Herts): “Revelation and the Intuition of Dualism”

15:10–16:10 (BST) Jakub Mihálik (Herts; Czech Acad Sci, Inst Philosophy): “Awareness of Awareness and the Metaphysics of Consciousness”

16:20–17:20 (BST) Sam Coleman (Herts): “Inverting Yablo on Mental Causation: Qualia as Super-Determinate Physical Properties”

17:30–18:15 (BST) panel discussion: “Is there a constitutive relation between phenomenal consciousness and certain form(s) of self-awareness?”

The online workshop is open to all but spaces are limited. Attendees need to pre-register by July 22. Pre-registration e-mail: j.mihalik@herts.ac.uk

The workshop is an outcome of the Consciousness and Matter Project (www.conmat.org).

EUROPEAN UNION
European Structural and Investment Funds
Operational Programme Research,
Development and Education

University of Hertfordshire UH

